

SOME OBSERVATIONS ON THE CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

This article analyzes the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

The author underlines how this Convention marks a new stage in the process relating to the evolution of the concept of disability, which took place within the framework - and thanks to - the United Nations and other international organizations, such as the World Health Organization, the Council of Europe and the European Union.

The Convention, in fact, contains specific rights addressed to disabled persons which give an added value to the protection of the fundamental rights of these persons.
